VIRGINIA: In the Clerk's Office for the Circuit Court of Appomattox County. Frank R. Crosby, et als, Plaintiffs

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

MARION Fullmer, et als, Defendants

The object of this suit is to effect partition, in one of the modes prescribed by law, of all that certain tract or parcel of real estate in Southside Magisterial District, Appomattox County, Virginia on Long Creek as is shown on a plat of survey made by William S. Cheatham, Deputy Surveyor, dated January 18, 1958, and containing 117½ acres, and if such is impractical, that the property be sold by the Court and the proceeds be divided among those entitled thereto.

And it appearing by affidavit filed that the Defendants, Marion Fullmer, George Fossett, Jr.; Robert Fossett; Rose Fossett; Kaye Crosby Coffee; and Joyce Corosby Kwanza are not residents of the State of Virginia, and that there may be persons whose names are unknown, interested in the subject to the divided or disposed of, it is ORDERED that the Defendants do appear on or before November 1, 1978, and do what is necessary to protect their interests.

In Memoriam

In memory of Emily McCoy Franklin who departed this life September 27, 1977.

Think of her faring 'on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here
Think of her still as the same, I say:
She is not dead - she is just away.

Sarah Sharpe

SARAH SHARPE, 3009 Old Forest Road - Lynchburg Phone 384-2011 offers a very complete service in custom-made draperies, made in her workroom to ensure quality and accuracy, featuring Waverly Fabrics and many other major fabric suppliers.

Sarah Sharpe has made draperies, curtians, etc. for many homes, offices, motels, etc. She offers you the pleasure derived from beautiful custom-made draperies to suit you and the decor of your home or office; in fact, there is no one who offers a better service than this local establishment since, the management has had wide experience in every feature of the business. Also because she carries only quality materials and sees that all work is done perfectly, down to the smallest detail, she has continued to witness the increase in the number of patrons. Why not see or call this fine shop - look over her line of beautiful materials and cheer up your home with new draperies, and if you are in the market for a sewing machine, see the Viking Sewing Machine, one of the best. Remember, "The lady who sews has more clothes" - so go by soon, you will be glad you did.

Mobile Home Exchange, Inc.

MOBILE HOME EXCHANGE, INC, Trailer Sales and Park is located 6 miles from Lynchburg on Highway 29 South, Lynchburg Phone 239-1578 - New and Used Trailers.

They invite you to drop in and see the large display of popular makes and well constructed mobile homes.

The modern mobile homes of today are completely insulated for comfort in hot and cold weather. They are thoroughly equipped with any type of heating equipment you desire, electric refrigerator and hot water systems. All have complete bath and shower.

They have ample storage space. From 1 to 5 bedrooms, compact kitchen, living room and bedroom. In fact, when you buy a mobile home your house payments are spread out a little more and up-to-date furnishings throughout - - ready for you to move in.

There are hundreds of thousands of people living in mobile homes today because of the high price of real estate, and rent too, they have discovered it is a very convenient, carefree and economical way of life with "no landlord problems."

The manager has been in the mobile home business for some time and offers only mobile homes that he can personally recommend that are well constructed and priced so the intending purchaser gets the very best for his money.

Union Rejects Pact Offered By Central Va. Electric Co-Op

IBEW Local #467 rejects three-year pact offered to end illegal strike at Central Virginia Electric Cooperative.

The three-year pact offered a 7% wage increase in each year, included pension and insurance plans paid by the Cooperative and holiday and vacation programs. Inclement weather and improvements to the sick pay plan were also included.

The package was offered at negotiations on September 15, 1978 and withdrawn on September 18 after Union rejection.

Operations of the Cooperative and service to members has continued uninterrupted since September 11, 1978 when the strike commenced by the Union. Some employees represented by the Union are working and the Cooperative is the process of replacing employees on strike. The Cooperative is also pursuing damage actions in the Courts against the Union as well as unfair labor practice charges with the National Labor Relations Board due to the illegal strike of the Union.

Employees Return To Work After Strike

Most of the employees of Central Virginia Electric Cooperative who had been on strike returned to work September 25, 1978.

Piedmont Area Reading Council Sets Workshop At Brookville

The Piedmont Area Reading Council, a local affiliate of the International Reading Association which devotes itself to improvement of reading and reading instruction, is presenting its eighth workshop on Saturday, October 14, 1978 at Brookville Middle School from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The theme is Bypassing Roadblocks to Learning and will involve program participants from Lynchburg College, the University of Virginia, the State Department of Education, Fairfax School System, Virginia Beach and Catawba Technical Institute.

The featured speaker and workshop participant will be Mr. Richard Boning. Mr. Boning has worked with children of varying capabilities for over 20 years and is a prolific author whose most notable authorship is the Specific Skill Series which has topped 30 million in sales.

Mr. Boning will conduct workshops for students and speak to parents and teachers. The student day begins at 8:30 and will end at 1 p.m. A variety of activities has been planned for parents, students and teachers.

Parents whose children have used or are now using Barnell-Loft materials are invited to attend and bring their children (Grades 4-7). Children who have used these materials will be more familiar with Mr. Boning's approach in the workshop. Any parent interested in reading is invited even though your child has not used these materials. Please call 352-8722 for information on registering for the workshop. It will be necessary to register by Friday, October 6.

FORMAL OR INFORMAL, brunch can be served buffet-style.

When Is The Best Time To Lime?

The question implies that one period during the year might be better time to apply it than others. Is this true? Why might one time be better than another?

We are familiar with the fact that a considerable period of time is required for a lime application to have its maximum effect on soil pH. This was clearly demonstrated in research conducted during the 1950's by a former faculty member of the Agronomy Department at Virginia Tech. In most instances two years were required for soil pH to reach its maximum following a lime application. The implications of this research is that if lime is needed it should be applied as soon as crop production practices will permit. This makes it possible for crops to be grown following the application to have as much benefit as possible. Therefore, the answer to the question is as soon as crop production practices will permit after you find out lime is needed.

This raises another question. What is the pH in your fields now? Will lime be needed for next year's crop production? The answer to these questions will come from soil tests. Therefore, the first job facing you is to get your soils tested. This means getting the samples pulled just as soon as you can after crops are harvested. If you do it then, you will have time to get the needed lime applied this fall. The lime will be able to start increasing soil pH this fall, and pH will be more favorable for crops grown next year than if lime applications are not made until next spring.

Try to avoid getting yourself caught in a bind like this. You put off soil sampling with the idea that you will pull them next February or March. Next February and March turn out to be like they have been for the last two years, cold as blue blazes and the soil frozen hard as a rock. You cannot pull soil samples and still need an answer to the question, "Do I need to apply lime?" Should you apply some before crop planting just in case it is needed, or should you wait until fall? Applying lime when it isn't needed can be almost as bad as not applying it when it is needed.

Obviously the best thing to do is to pull those soil samples as soon as you can and apply the lime that is shown to be needed. Call us at 352-8244 or stop by for additional information on getting your soils tested.
